Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this program, participants should be better able to:

- Distinguish between ovulatory and anovulatory uterine bleeding and other menstrual abnormalities and select appropriate treatment options
- Explain the process of menopausal transition (climacteric) and describe the potential risks/benefits of HRT option, especially in relation to breast cancer and cardiovascular disease
- Describe the management of HPV infection and abnormal pap smear results
- Accurately diagnose and treat (pharmacologic and nonpharmacologic) substance abuse, anxiety disorders, and ADHD in adults
- Understand risk factors and assess patients at risk for suicide and violence and intervene to make timely referrals to combat hopelessness
- Describe current diagnostic approaches to hypertension, arrhythmias, ACS and CAD
- Implement treatment strategies reflective of current evidence-based medicine for hypertension, arrhythmias, ACS and CAD

Learning Outcome

To provide updates in primary care medicine to office based providers

Disclosure of Conflicts of Interest

Medical Education Resources insures balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all our educational programs. In accordance with this policy, MER identifies conflicts of interest with its instructors, content managers, and other individuals who are in a position to control the content of an activity. Conflicts are resolved by MER to ensure that all scientific research referred to, reported, or used in a CME activity conforms to the generally accepted standards of experimental design, data collection, and analysis. MER is committed to providing its learners with high-quality CME activities that promote improvements or quality in health care and not the business interest of a commercial interest.
